This extremely passionate DJ is a well known figure in the Dutch Electronic Dance Music scene. As a vocalist, she recorded her first single "Katana - Feels Like Magic", produced by DJ/ Producer Randy Katana in 1993. For this talent duo, it was absolute love at first site, and shortly after they became inseparable. Ten years later in 2002 the musical power couple got married with an unforgettable dance event in one of the most conservative establishments in the Netherlands, famous for housing the President of the United States, "The Kurhaus". For the following years Shila dedicated her life to her husband, and became the driving force behind the success of DJ/ Producer Randy Katana. First acting as his Bookings Agent, she managed to arrange the first performances, that would set off a chain of events, which landed her husband on number 150 on the DJ Mag Top 100 in less than 2 years. After that she became his Road Manager, and has been taking care of the business side of performances ever since.

In 2015 she took part in a new DJ course, given by her husband, called: Digital DJ. Right away it became obvious that all the years working as a Road Manager, were now paying off. Once the technicality of the Digital DJ technique was learned, there was nothing else to stop her taking off.

Even though her husband became famous for contributing the Tribal genre to the Dance Music Industry in the early 90s, and later the Tech-Trance genre, Shila remained passionately devoted to her own, Techno. Inspired by Artists like Carlo Lio, Richie Hawtin, D-Unity, Victor Calderone, and Nicole Moudaber, she quickly developed her own style, that perfectly fits her sexy image.

With her own new live mix series called "Gems Sessions" she is now one of the very few Female DJ's, in a predominantly male genre, that not only tells a story in her set, but also brings a degree of sexapeal to the genre. Something only a handful of Techno DJs has been able to accomplish.

As to be expected, in the winter of 2016 Shila will be teaming up with her Producer husband in order to start production on her own releases for the ComBeatz Techno label: LambdaBeatz. A joint venture, that not only will guarantee the success of her DJ career, but also contribute to the popularity of the genre.

The fact that Shila is also a very talented vocalist, with a golden voice, and has the looks Hollywood can only dream of, there will be no limit to what she will be able to accomplish.
